

REPORT ON THE STATUS OF THE
NATIVE HAWAIIAN REHABILITATION FUND (NHRF)
FY 1997 – 2001

Introduction

The 2001 Legislature adopted House Concurrent Resolution No. 54, requesting the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands (DHHL) to report on the status of the Native Hawaiian Rehabilitation Fund (NHRF). The report is to include information on the source and amount of all funds deposited into the NHRF during the last five years, an expenditure report, and a report detailing the impact of the various projects and programs funded through the fund for the purpose of ascertaining compliance with the State Constitution.

Pursuant to Article XII, Section 1 of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, “thirty percent of the state receipts derived from the leasing of cultivated sugarcane lands under any provision of law or from water licenses shall be transferred to the native Hawaiian rehabilitation fund, section 213 of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, 1920, for the purposes enumerated in that section.” In accordance with section 213(i) of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, 1920, as amended (HHCA), “the department shall use this money solely for the rehabilitation of native Hawaiians which shall include, but not be limited to, the educational, economic, political, social, and cultural processes by which the general welfare and conditions of native Hawaiians are thereby improved.”

NHRF Deposits and Expenditures

At the start of FY 1997 NHRF opened with a balance of $9,385,659. By the end of FY 2001 the fund had grown to $13,824,587. During the reporting period deposits totaled $8,677,182, an average of $1,735,436 per year. For the same period, expenditures averaged $847,651, for a total of $4,238,254. Table 1 below presents a summary of deposits and expenditures from NHRF during the five-year reporting period.

NHRF Deposits by Source

As Table 2 indicates, a total of $8,677,182 was deposited into NHRF during the period July 1, 1996 through June 30, 2001. Although significant, these revenues have declined since the 1980's as a result of the reduction in sugar production and closure of several sugar plantations.

Revenues deposited into NHRF come from several sources. However, income comes from only three areas: the State's leasing of sugar lands and its provision of water licenses, as noted in Article XII of the Constitution, and from the investment of NHRF's outstanding balances.

A total of $1,021,804 was deposited from sugar leases. It should be noted that nearly half of that amount was deposited in FY 1999. This was an adjustment from shortages identified during an audit conducted the previous year. Income from water licenses totaled $514,778 during this five-year period. After a decline in the first year, water license deposits have been relatively consistent.

The third source of income, interest earnings from the management of the fund, is the largest source of revenue. Over the five-year reporting period, $3,349,911 came from investment, representing nearly 70 percent of these three income sources.

Other sources of revenue shown in Table 2 represent reimbursements to funds loaned out of NHRF in previous years. In most cases they represent small transactions. The one exception was the return of $3,469,170 in FY 1997 from the development of 40 homes in Nanakuli. Those funds were loaned as interim financing in FY 1996.

Budget Allocations and Program Activities

It has been the practice of DHHL to manage the NHRF like an endowment. In allocating NHRF monies, every effort is made to maintain the balance in the fund, and to use the annual revenues and interest earnings to support projects and activities benefiting native Hawaiians. As reported earlier, the balance in the native Hawaiian rehabilitation fund at the beginning of the reporting period was $9,385,659. Annual budget allocations approved by the Hawaiian Homes Commission have averaged about $1.4 million. As reported earlier, expenditures have averaged approximately $847,000 per year. The lag between the amounts budgeted and actual expenditures is due to several factors. Time is required to process requests, go through procurement, and to prepare and execute contracts. In addition, disbursements are normally made based on a payment schedule.

The Hawaiian Homes Commission has approved the expenditure of NHRF monies for a variety of projects and activities benefiting native Hawaiians. Table 3 presents a summary of NHRF budget allocations during the five-year reporting period.

A discussion of the major programs and activities supported by NHRF is provided below:

- Community Development Grants Program: In 1995 the Hawaiian Homes Commission approved the establishment of a grants program to support and assist native Hawaiians and organizations providing services to native Hawaiians. Appendix A provides a listing of Community Development Grants awarded during the reporting period. These grants have made a visible contribution toward improving the lives of native Hawaiian beneficiaries and in stimulating activities in homestead communities. Grants have supported a variety of agricultural projects, helped families to build their homes, supported community-initiated improvements to homestead facilities, and helped social service organizations to provide health, education, and youth programs serving native Hawaiians. Hawaiian homestead organizations have been awarded grants to help fund the construction of playground equipment, youth recreational activities, economic development ventures, agroforestry, and other activities benefiting the community.

- SCHHA and Hui Kako'o: NHRF monies have been allocated to support the State Council of Hawaiian Homestead Associations (SCHHA) and Hui Kako'o `Aina Ho`opulupula, an organization representing applicants on the DHHL waiting list. Grant funds have helped pay for meeting expenses, inter island travel, and other organizational activities.
- Hawaiian Homes Commission Scholarships: In the past five years more than 800 native Hawaiian students have been awarded financial assistance to pursue a program of post-secondary education. The Scholarship program is administered by the Kamehameha Schools under an agreement with DHHL
- Ohana Subdivisions: Funding from NHRF is allocated to assist homestead lessees with the cost of surveying and subdividing their lots for transfer to other eligible family members.
- Kalamaula Land Settlement: Funds are advanced from NHRF to support various community-based projects on the island of Moloka'i. Reimbursement of the project costs is provided by the County of Maui under the terms of a settlement agreement entered into for the encroachment of a County landfill onto Hawaiian home lands in Kalamaula. Funds have been used for materials to construct a pavilion at Moomomi Beach, for fencing and irrigation for the homestead cemeteries, for improvements to Kiowea Park, and for other projects benefiting the homestead communities on Moloka'i.
- Community Based Programs: NHRF monies are used by DHHL's Land Management Division for a variety of community projects such as clearing drainage ways, electrifying streetlights, trimming trees, posting signs, and other activities to improve the health and safety of our homestead communities.

- Cooperative Extension Service: NHRF monies are used to provide technical assistance services to Hawaiian homestead farmers on the islands of Kauaʻi, Molokaʻi, and Hawaii. These services are provided under an agreement with the University of Hawaii, College of Tropical Agriculture, Cooperative Extension Service.
- Interim Construction Financing: In FY 1996 NHRF monies were allocated for interim construction financing for homes in the Nanakuli Residence Lots, Series 7. The funds invested were recovered through the sale of the homes.
- Other activities: The NHRF has supported a variety of other activities benefiting native Hawaiians, including training programs, technical assistance, homeownership counseling, the production of educational materials, educational forums on important native Hawaiian issues, and numerous other projects. All of these activities are intended to improve the welfare and conditions of the native Hawaiian beneficiaries of the fund.

Conclusion

Deposits into the NHRF have declined in recent years, reflecting the downturn in the sugar industry. Revenues from sugar cane leases and water licenses have averaged about $300,000 per year during the reporting period. An additional $700,000 in annual interest earnings is also deposited into the fund. DHHL manages the NHRF like an endowment, maintaining the balance in the fund and using annual income and interest payments to fund programs and activities. DHHL has appropriated approximately $1.4 million per year from the NHRF for various projects and activities benefiting native Hawaiians, including community development grants, scholarships, technical assistance training, educational programs, and other activities. The purposes for which NHRF monies have been used are consistent with the intent of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii. That is, for the rehabilitation of native Hawaiians which shall include, but not be limited to, the educational, economic, political, social, and cultural processes by which the general welfare and conditions of native Hawaiians are thereby improved.
